

Please allow us to use our bands as we think they should be used. Most countries do that. Why not give it a try on a band that's already not worth much (75/80) for a one year trial period. You could be pleasantly surprised how well things go all by themselves. The 75/80 meter band has no place to go except up. So-called incentive licensing has only worked for a very small portion of the fraternity. The ARRL is not an accurate gauge for testing the climate.

I'm certain you realize this and much more!
